

Pappas Telecasting Companies' 'donation' of $325,000 in airtime to Republican candidates in certain areas is yet another example of a powerful media group abusing its privileged access to the public airwaves. It is simply a papasin..

Localism is not served when a corporate headquarters decides to provide one side in local elections a louder voice than others. During election season, local audiences should be offered genuine debate. Again, it is a sin to Pappas to uses the public airwaves free of charge and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Pappas' actions, a sin to the eyes of people like me. a legal, questionable and cast doubt on whether Pappas truly intends to serve the public interest. Their actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Further, they show why the license renewal process needs to involve. Thank you.
